

School of Canon Law
Tenure-Track Professor of Canon Law

The School of Canon Law at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a full-time, open-rank, tenure-track faculty position in canon law, to begin fall 2024. The school encourages applications from scholars of all ranks who either already have, or give promise of having, a distinguished record of research and publication, and of teaching excellence at the graduate level.

The successful applicant will possess a doctorate in canon law and enjoy broad expertise in the discipline of canon law. This will include several years of canonical practice and familiarity with historical and contemporary canonical studies with research proficiency in multiple languages, especially Latin and Italian. The successful candidate will teach graduate courses, advise students, direct research, serve on committees, and in general contribute in a collegial fashion to the work of the School of Canon Law. Rank and salary will be determined on the basis of experience, academic credentials, and publication record.

The candidate must be a practicing Catholic and in good standing with the Church.

Please send applications to canonlaw-search@cua.edu and include the following:

- (1) A cover letter stating the applicant's interest;
- (2) A curriculum vitae;
- (3) The names and contact information of three references;
- (4) A personal statement of one or two pages indicating how the applicant's research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education as outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Ecclesiastical Universities and Faculties' Veritatis gaudium.
- (5) Applicants who are clerics or members of institutes of consecrated life or societies of apostolic life must also obtain a letter from their ecclesiastical superior stating that the applicant has permission to apply for the position and that he or she is in good standing.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

The Catholic University of America is the national university of the Catholic Church and was founded as a center of research and scholarship. We seek candidates who understand and will make a significant contribution to the University's mission and goals.
