Clinical (Teaching) Assistant Professor in Chemistry

The Department of Chemistry at the Catholic University of America in Washington, DC seeks to fill one clinical/teaching position to begin August 2022. The candidate will be expected to make significant contributions to the teaching of foundational undergraduate lecture and laboratory chemistry courses.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: “As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world.”

Appointment: Full-time, clinical-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in August 2022.

Application: Applications should include:
- a cover letter
- a curriculum vitae
- a statement of teaching interests which includes a description of how you propose to contribute to the teaching of organic, inorganic, and/or environmental chemistry
- a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how your teaching and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University’s mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Please submit these items by following this link to a Google form for applications. Questions about this position may be directed to Dr. Greg Miller (millergj@cua.edu).

Submissions will remain open until the position has been filled, but priority will be given to applications submitted before December 17, 2021.
