Department of Education, School of Arts and Sciences
Tenure-Track Assistant Professor

The Department of Education in the School of Arts and Sciences at The Catholic University of America, located in Washington, DC, seeks to fill a Tenure-Track Assistant Professor position with expertise in the CAEP accreditation process and educator preparation to begin in August 2022. Applications at the Associate or Full Professor rank will also be considered.

The Department of Education offers early childhood, elementary and secondary English, mathematics, and social studies educator preparation programs and a non-licensure program in Education Studies at the undergraduate level in addition to secondary English, mathematics, and social studies educator preparation programs at the graduate level.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University.

Preference will be given to candidates who have expertise in accredited educator preparation programs and demonstrated commitment to teaching from a lens of diversity, equity and social justice. Experience teaching in higher education is required. Prior teaching experience in Pre-K through 12 schools is preferred. Experience with online and hybrid learning environments and educational technology is desirable. The candidate must hold an earned doctorate in education. Candidates from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply. Salary is commensurate with qualifications. The appointment is effective at the beginning of the fall 2022 semester.

Responsibilities include:

- CAEP administrative duties related to the accreditation process such as ongoing data collection and report writing
- Conduct research and seek external funding for projects
- Teach undergraduate and graduate courses
- Advise students
- Supervise candidates in their field placements
- Serve on departmental committees
- Assist with student recruitment

Application requirements:

Applicants should include: (1) a letter of interest, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) the names of three references, and (4) a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how your research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University’s mission and to the vision of Catholic education as outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae. Please send these materials addressed to the Tenure-Track Faculty Search Committee, Department of Education to mammo@cua.edu.
Information about the Department and its programs is available at http://education.cua.edu/. The committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until a suitable candidate is identified.
