The Department of Sociology at The Catholic University of America seeks to fill a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology to begin in the fall semester of 2022.

The Department has a particular interest in candidates whose work focuses on Criminology. The ideal candidate will be a productive researcher who can also contribute to our department’s teaching needs in research methods and in health, society, and policy. The ability to incorporate the contributions of Catholic Social Teaching into one’s teaching and research is especially desirable.

The Catholic University of America aspires to be a global Catholic research university, and seeks to hire faculty who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows:

“As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world.”

Other responsibilities include teaching, advising, and mentoring students, both undergraduate and graduate.

Interested applicants should contact the department chair, Dr. Brandon Vaidyanathan, at brandony@cua.edu. We accept applications on a rolling basis but will prioritize applications submitted by Dec 15, 2021. Please include a letter of interest, CV, sample publications, teaching portfolio, list of references, and a personal statement. The personal statement should indicate how your research, teaching, and service would make a distinctive contribution to our University’s mission and to the vision of Catholic education as outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.
